Calls for a "consilient"
or "vertically
Di Nanchino
integrated" approach
to the study of human
mind and culture
have, for the most part, been received by scholars in the humanities with

Access Free Pic Frutti E Altri

either indifference or hostility. One reason for this is that consilience has often been framed as bringing the study of humanistic issues into line with the study of non-human phenomena, rather than as something to which humanists and scientists contribute equally. The other

Access Free Pic

Frutti E Altri

major reason that
consilience has yet to catch on in the humanities is a dearth
of compelling
examples of the benefits of adopting a
consilient approach.

Creating Consilience
is the product of a
workshop that
brought together inte rnationally-renowned scholars from a

variety of fields to address both of these issues. It includes representative pieces from workshop speakers and participants that examine how adopting such a consilient stance -- informed by cognitive science and grounded in evolutionary theory -- would

Frutti E Altri

concretely impact
specific topics in the
humanities,
examining each topic
in a manner that not only cuts across the humanities-natural
science divide, but
also across individual
humanistic disciplines. By taking seriously the fact that science-humanities
integration is a two-

Frutti E Altri

way exchange, this volume takes a new approach to bridging
the cultures of
science and the humanities. The editors and
contributors
formulate how to develop a new shared
framework of
consilience beyond
mere interdisciplinarity, in

a way that both sides
can accept.

This volume is dedicated to
collaborative research
across STEM
disciplines, the arts and humanities. It
includes six sections,
framed from a global
perspective and
exhibits contributions
from key experts in

the field, emerging scholarly voices, and
STEAM practitioners.
The added value of
STEAM projects in
research is
highlighted in the first section of this book. Ranging from the spatial, medical
and environmental humanities to
heritage science, this section discusses the

course and paths

STEAM projects may evolve to in the near future. The second section features

reflective essays by scientists and artists on the development of their research, their professional

growth and personal learning experiences that the art/science collaborations have afforded their work and careers. Sections III and IV provides practical guidance and advice on facilitating STEAM teams and describe successful collaborative projects. By presenting the objectives and outcomes of relevant research, the chapters in these sections discuss the various steps taken by different teams to achieve project fruition. Paying particular attention to barriers inhibiting STEAM collaboration, these sections also explore the ways in which research teams were able to work effectively. The fifth section presents a review of policy issues and the potential impacts of STEAM research for administrators, funders and policy makers. In its pursuit for balance and inclusion, the volume concludes with a critical reflection on STEAM that argues a different perspective and will prove food potential in creating intelligent libraries capable of meeting contemporary needs, and the growing role of librarians as apomediators. Library 3.0 is divided into four chapters. The first chapter introduces and places the topic in context. The second chapter considers “ point oh

art. In less than a decade - up until his untimely death in 1962 - he forged a career and built up a body of work that together have influenced and inspired contemporaries and subsequent generations of artists worldwide. Klein sought in his art to liberate the senses, to heighten our sensibility and to intensify our experience of life. In this comprehensive review of his art and ideas, Sidra Stich examines the full range of his diverse creative output - his paintings and sculptures, installations, his proposals and

In 1848, a violent

Europe. The torrent

Napoleon's defeat at
